Career and Networking Resources

(Westlaw, Lexis Advance, Bloomberg Law, and Other Useful Resources)

Jennifer Morgan | Government Documents Librarian | jlbryan@Indiana.edu

Three broad categories of career resources:
• Directories or listings of legal professionals
• Career advice
• Current awareness/news

Legal directories can be used to research employment opportunities, practice areas, firms and attorneys.

Online Resources
• Westlaw
• Lexis Advance
• Bloomberg Law
• Martindale.com
• Job Listings – NALP directory
• Free electronic resources

Law Library Research Guide:
“Career and Networking Resources”
law.indiana.libguides.com/jobsearch

While Westlaw, Lexis Advance, and Bloomberg Law do not post job announcements, they are powerful tools that you can use to research attorneys or particular firms that are advertising positions, or to identify firms that you want to contact about possible job openings.
West Legal Directory contains more than one million profiles of law firms and branch offices, in addition to biographical records of attorneys in any of the 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Canada, and Europe.
Within the West Legal Directory, you can search within the entire directory by entering a search in the main search box. If you would like to narrow the scope of your search, you can click on a practice area or geographical region to pull up a search template for that section of the directory. Here is some helpful advice from Westlaw’s Network and Interviewing training: “As you begin this process, develop targeted searches based on your law school and undergraduate school. You already have a connection based on your school. You can expand that connection by looking at the practice area and legal career history of other alumni.” Additionally, you may also want to target people that speak your language or are from your home country.

Popular Search Fields (available in the template view for each subcategory):

- Firm, Court, or Organization (e.g., Indiana Supreme Court)
- County, State or City (e.g., New York or San Francisco)
- Area(s) of Practice (e.g., intellectual property)
- Key Search Terms: In this field, try searching for specific languages (e.g., Korean) or law school (or undergraduate institution) attended (e.g., “Indiana University” or “Maurer School of Law”)

The results lists shows the names of the attorneys. You can search within results and then narrow by organization, year admitted to practice, practice area, position (role in the company), etc.

Litigation History Report

Litigation History Reports analyze an attorney or judge's historical caseload, including information pertaining to case types, participating clients and parties, participating law firms and judges, and other data useful for assessing the background of an attorney or judge.
The results list shows the names of the attorneys in the firm. You can narrow results with different facets.
Once you have identified somebody with whom you are going to meet or interview, learn about his or her practice by researching their law firm using Profiler.

You can search “All Professionals,” or narrow by subject expertise or job category (e.g., “Attorneys and Judges” or “Intellectual Property Professionals”). You can also use Profiler to search for an attorney, judge, or law firm and find general newspaper articles; legal news articles; cases on which they worked; and legal articles (law reviews) they have written.

Westlaw Profiler provides biographical information about attorneys, judges, experts, arbitrators and intellectual property professionals, as well as links to documents that reflect their work history.
Westlaw Profiler: Search by Individual Name or Practice Area

The results lists shows the names of attorneys, expert witnesses, and law firms. You can search within results and then narrow by profile type, location, etc.
Westlaw Profiler is helpful for more renowned/well-known individuals and provides more detailed biographical information.
Other Westlaw Directories

There are several additional Westlaw directories that you may want to utilize in your search. These include the Almanac of the Federal Judiciary, Company Index, International Professional Directory, and Directory of Corporate Counsel.

- Almanac of the Federal Judiciary: Biographical information on currently serving federal judges, including US Supreme Court justices, circuit court judges, district court judges, magistrates, and bankruptcy court judges - including media coverage, and anonymous lawyers' evaluations.

- Directory of Corporate Counsel: Biographical records of legal counsel for corporations and nonprofit organizations, and complete organization-level listings of corporate counsel, compiled by Wolters Kluwer Law & Business.

- United States Government Manual: The official handbook of the federal government, including information on the agencies of the legislative, judicial, and executive branches, as well as information on quasi-official agencies, international committees, and commissions.
Lexis Directories

Like Westlaw, you can use terms and connectors to search a selection of directories in Lexis Advance. To access the attorney directories that are available in Lexis, select “Directories” from the Content Type tab.

Potentially useful directories to search include:
- <ANY STATE> Listings – LexisNexis® Law Directory
- LexisNexis® Law Directory – International Practice Profiles
- Standard & Poor’s Corporate Register of Directors & Executives
- State Legislative Directory
- The Almanac of American Politics
- The Who’s Who of Company Directors
- Federal Staff Directory

Carmen Brun represents broker-dealers and individual securities clients in regulatory and enforcement matters involving the Financial Industry Regulation Authority (FINRA), the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and state securities commissions, as well as related FINRA arbitrations. Recently she represented a broker-dealer and individual securities clients in three state securities actions. Carmen also advises corporate and individual clients in matters including tax controversy, trade secrets misappropriation, employment discrimination and class-action insurance defense. Carmen is strong in business management, having spent considerable time on employment and labor issues, sales and marketing and general management. She worked more than 12 years with Inter-Continental Hotels Group serving as general manager of hotels in Irvine, California; Austin, Texas; and Denver, Colorado. Immediately prior to law school, Carmen was general manager of the former Crown Plaza at the United Nations in New York City. Before joining Sutherland, Carmen was the Snyder Visiting Scholar at the Lauterpacht Centre for International Law at Cambridge University. Carmen was a varsity swimmer at Indiana University-Bloomington. Carmen currently serves on the firm’s Hiring and Pro Bono Committees. Selected Experience: Sutherland wins summary judgment for NYUAD in fraud case. Served as nationwide counsel for an independent broker-dealer in a series of related regulatory matters, class actions and arbitrations concerning Regulation D offerings and other alternative investments. Won a $Dollar#38 million verdict against a major pharmaceutical company and former client employee in a misappropriation of trade secrets case. Awards and Rankings: Named to the 2012 Capital Pro Bono Honor Roll

Online
The Law Library’s Career and Networking Resources guide (http://law.indiana.libguides.com/jobsearch) is an interactive guide detailing the resources available at the Maurer School of Law, both in the library and elsewhere, for your job, internship, and career development needs.

Books
There are a number of wonderful and up-to-date books in the law library related to legal careers. Try searching in IUCAT for “law” or “legal” and “career. Alternatively, you can come to the library and browse the shelves, most of our legal career books are cataloged between call numbers KF290 – KF300 (e.g., The Legal Career Guide: From Law Student to Lawyer, call no. KF297 .M865, shelved on the 3rd floor). We also have print directories for a variety of jurisdictions (e.g., Indiana Legal Directory, KF 192 .I54 (2012)).
